

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE FOR INTERNATIONAL LOGISTICS AND SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

View this essay on statement of purpose supply chain management. As an international student with experience of different types of business models literature related to supply chain logistics is becoming increasingly multidisciplinary.

Strategic management seeks to coordinate and integrate the activities of the various functional areas of a business in order to achieve long-term organizational objectives. It is a little urgent! These issues are more often than not firmly entwined in domain specific best practices and culture centric Morale and ethics corporate social responsibilities. Being an engineer with managerial background, I believe that my profile is totally suitable to the Program of SCMP at XXX Business School and I am sure that this program will cater to my interests and guide me in the right directions towards achieving my goals. Ankur Malhotra. This personal statement is unrated Add new comment. I wish to make a substantial contribution in this changing sphere of logistics and supply chain management with my innovation and in-depth knowledge of this field. Ever since I started studying business administration, I became almost obsessed with the ways large firms like Amazon or Wal-Mart manage their supply chains. By the time I completed my junior year, I already knew that I would go into supply chain management exclusively. The research carried out for my graduation thesis allowed me to contact Chinese industrial suppliers and consumers from different fields. Supply Chain management is no longer a mere ancillary function happy to be outsourced and remote managed. TQM works by continuously improving all aspect of work through structured control, improvement and planning activities that are carried out in concern with guiding ideology that focuses on Quality and Customer Satisfaction as the top priorities. Compactness may be shown by invoking equicontinuity. Through the lectures, case studies, and research project undertaken in your program, I expect to soon have the skills necessary to help companies ensure a competitive supply chain. Target Corporation is a top discount retail stores in the U. Sometimes I wonder that there was a time when traders and explorers used to spend their whole life in taking one small ingredient like black pepper from one country to another. In addition, I was responsible for the overall implementation and maintenance of my family business. Globalization has brought new challenges for economies; hence today's manager must equip himself with the tools and techniques provided by research and development in logistics sector. By studying at XXX University, I expect to learn more about all of the links in a supply chain and how to make strategic changes as needed to ensure continued competitiveness. Machines and mechanisation that bring about this technological advancement have always fascinated me. They know that they have cool programme, otherwise they wouldn't offer it. It has a rich culture and is well represented by the Indian community; I would be delighted if given an opportunity to contribute to the rich academic and social traditions of your great institution. S carrying general merchandise as well sells online Yahoo Finance, This was made possible when I got admitted at Bhausahab Vartak Polytechnic.